

Salmon Steaks

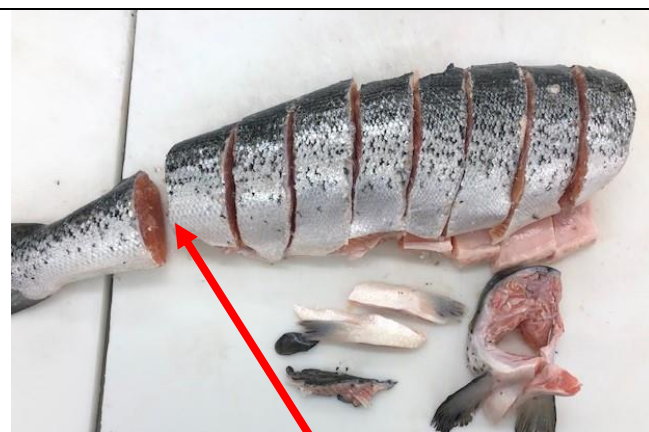

1. Begin by removing the collar just behind the pectoral fin

2. Trimmed Salmon should have a clean face once the collar is removed

3. Continue by removing all fins shown in the photo above, including the dorsal, adipose, anal, and pelvic fins.

4. Cut Salmon into approximately 1^{1/2} inch steaks beginning at the head end of the fish and continuing towards the tail. The last steak should be cut no more than 1/4 inch behind the anal fin to produce a steak with a 2 1/2 inch minimum diameter on the small side of the final steak. Discard the uncut tail portion.

Salmon Steaks

- Both sides of each steak should be cleaned using a bone scraper. Place larger pieces in a 25p and smaller, tail-end pieces into an 8p Styrofoam tray.

- Wrap product and label as shown using the proper country of origin PLU number.
